

Contest Terms and Conditions:

The 21-Day Trading Challenge Contest, hereinafter referred to as the Contest, is conducted jointly by TTP (Trade The Pool) and CWT (Chat With Traders).

Contest Registration ends May 13th. The 21-Day Trading Challenge will run from the 15th of May at 9:30am EST to 6th of June at 4:00pm EST.

The final ranking is settled by the OMS which is our proprietary Algo (the results of which will be disclosed on TTP's and CWT's websites). The person with the highest profit is the 1st Place winner. However, top 10 places will be eligible for a prize.

To qualify for the Contest and be eligible for prizes you must be a member of the Chat With Traders Community. If you are not already a member, simply click on this link to join the Chat With Traders Community. Please use the same email address for registering for the Contest and joining the Chat With Traders Community. Your email address is the method in which we will validate that you are a member. Note: You are eligible for a one month free trial period for the membership. As your free trial period nears completion, you will be notified so that you can choose to continue or cancel the community membership subscription.

The Contest leaderboard will be updated daily on www.TradeThePool.com/leaderboard during the competition period.

The traders in the competition will trade on a demo account, with Trade The Pool trading platform, and will have access to TTP's dashboard in order to follow their performance. Prior to the beginning of the contest, the trader should get familiar with the trading platform.

Once a trader sign up for TTP's hub - hub.tradethepool.com, he will be given with 2 accounts. The 1st account will be a test account and it will be used to practice.

The 2nd account will be the contest account.

The trader must make sure at all times that he or she is using the relevant account when they are trading.

Example:

If Jane Doe, a trader, competed in the 21-Day Trading Challenge and reached the highest profit and placed first in the Contest, she would win 1st Prize. The prize in this category includes a free evaluation account that would normally cost up to $1,300. Jane Doe can choose to go through the evaluation and if she is able to reach the profit target in her evaluation account and stay within the risk rules parameters, she would be funded $260,000.

An evaluation account is a test for the trader to prove he or she can be profitable. The evaluation account parameters are written in detail on the Trade The Pool website and Terms and Conditions and varies between the different tiers. In order for a trader to become funded, he or she will have to pass the evaluation test, reach the profit target and stay within the risk rules parameters of the program.

TTP and CWT will have the final determination as to who will be the winner of the trading contest.

TTP and CWT reserves the right to determine, at its own discretion, whether certain trades, practices, strategies or situations are considered not within the limits of the terms and conditions.

TTP and CWT reserves the right to update the terms and conditions at any time regarding the contest. We will communicate any updates to the terms and conditions to participants by email as well as updating on CWT community. It is the sole responsibility of the participant to ensure they can receive emails from TTP.
